

WORKING FAMILIES DESERVE PAID LEAVE

Federal workers shouldn't have to decide between caring for a child or loved one and their paycheck. Most employees in the public and private sectors get no paid time off to bond with a new child or to address medical and family emergencies, but the Federal Employee Paid Leave Act (FEPLA) seeks to change this by providing federal employees with 12 weeks of paid leave for the following reasons:

- The birth, adoption, or fostering of a new child;
- Caring for seriously ill or injured family members;
- Tending to an employee's own serious health condition; and
- Addressing health, wellness, financial, and other issues that arise when a loved one is serving overseas in the military or is a recently discharged veteran.

Call your Senators and Representative NOW.

Tell them working families deserve paid leave and to cosponsor the Federal Employee Paid Leave Act

Dial:

1-855-570-2012

Senate Line

1-833-721-0055

House Line

AMERICAN FEDERATION OF GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES, AFL-CIO

IMPORTANT: This information should not be downloaded using government equipment, read during duty time or sent to others using government equipment, because it suggests action to be taken in support or against legislation. Do not use your government email address or government phone in contacting your lawmakers.