

Have your family care arrangements been substantially disrupted by COVID-19 at any point since the outbreak?

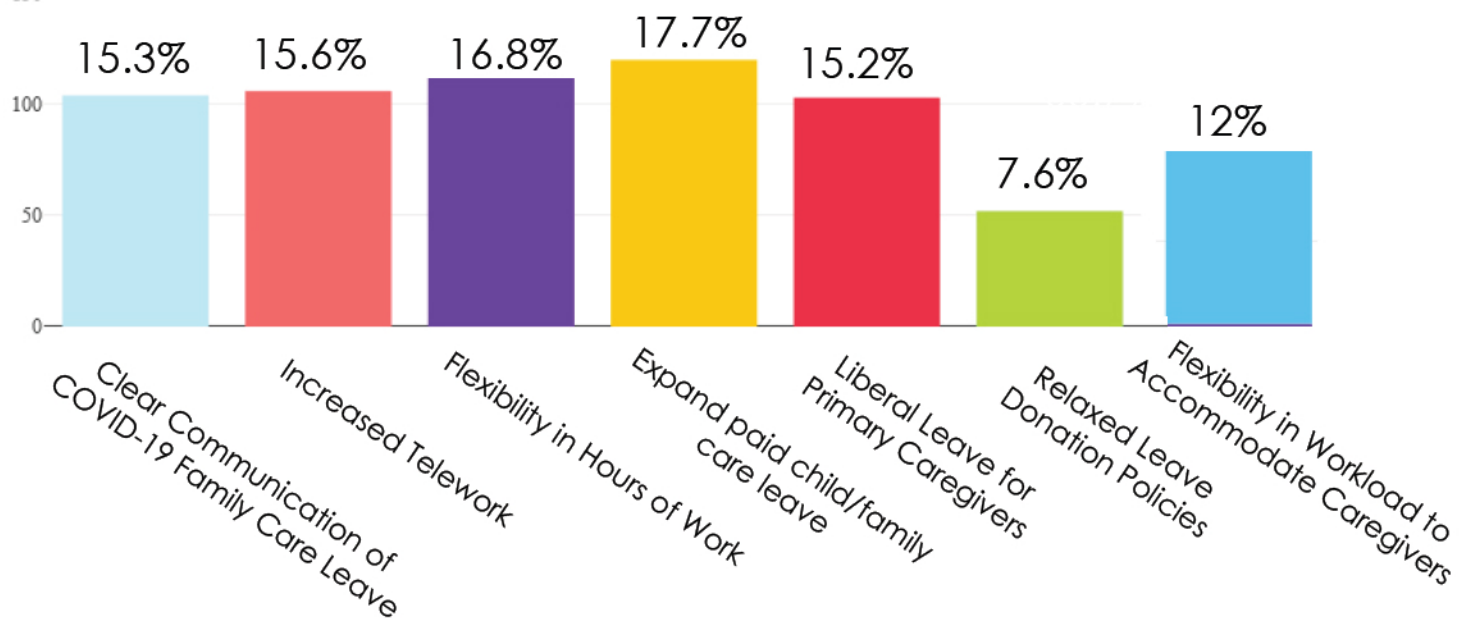

If no, do you anticipate those arrangements to be disrupted due to COVID in the immediate future?

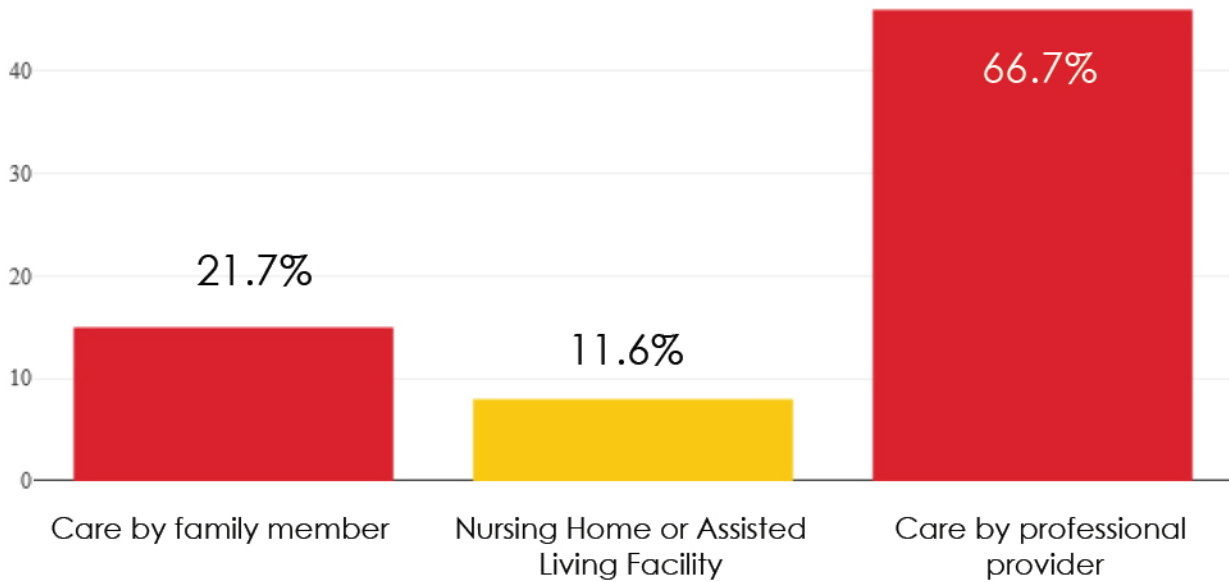

Do you feel safe returning your dependent to their care arrangement at this time?

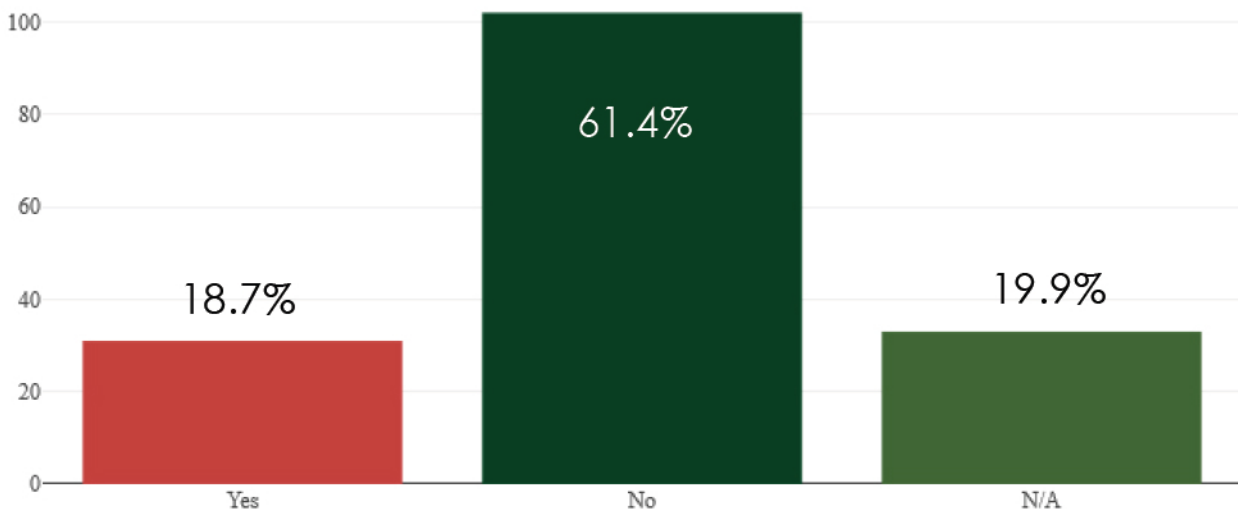

What policies should AFGE pursue to help caregivers address family care issues associated with COVID-19?

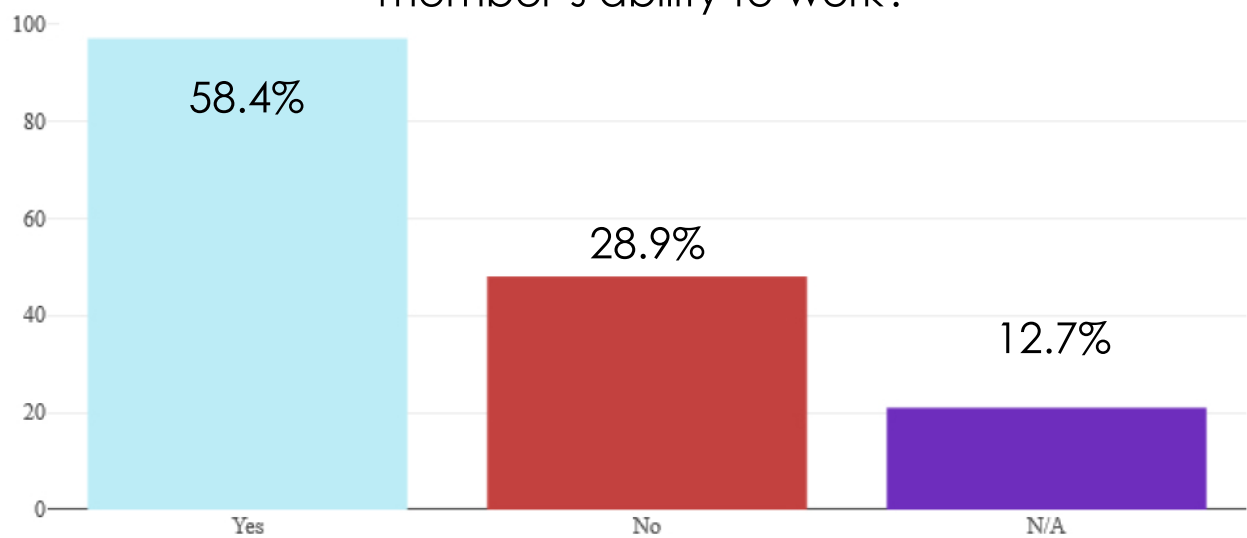

What was the primary source of supervision/care for your dependent family member:

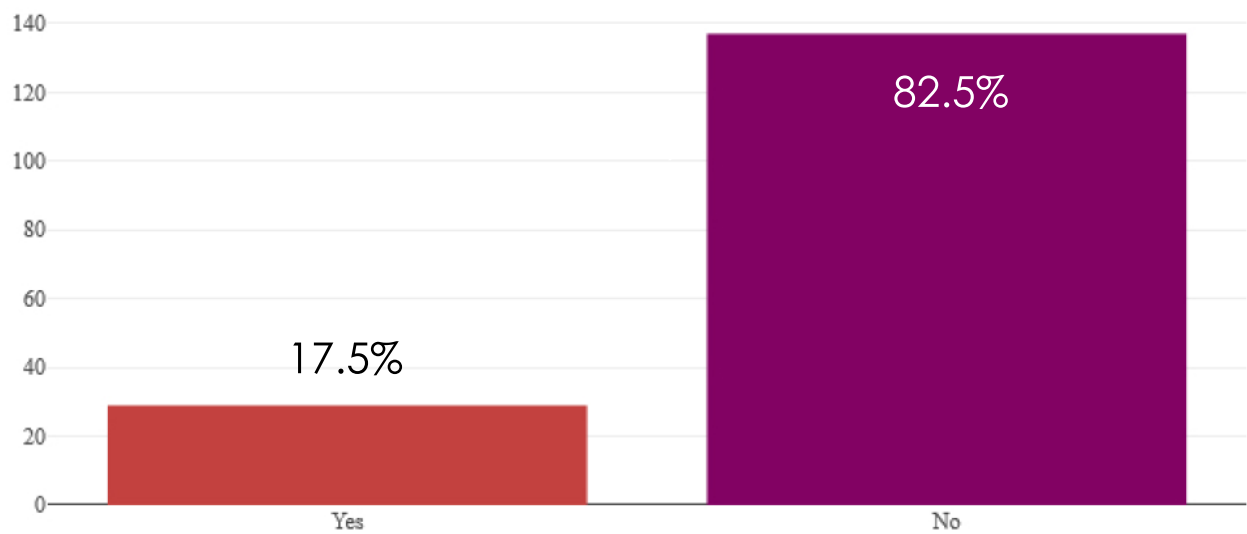

Do you have a plan to restore those care arrangements safely at this time?

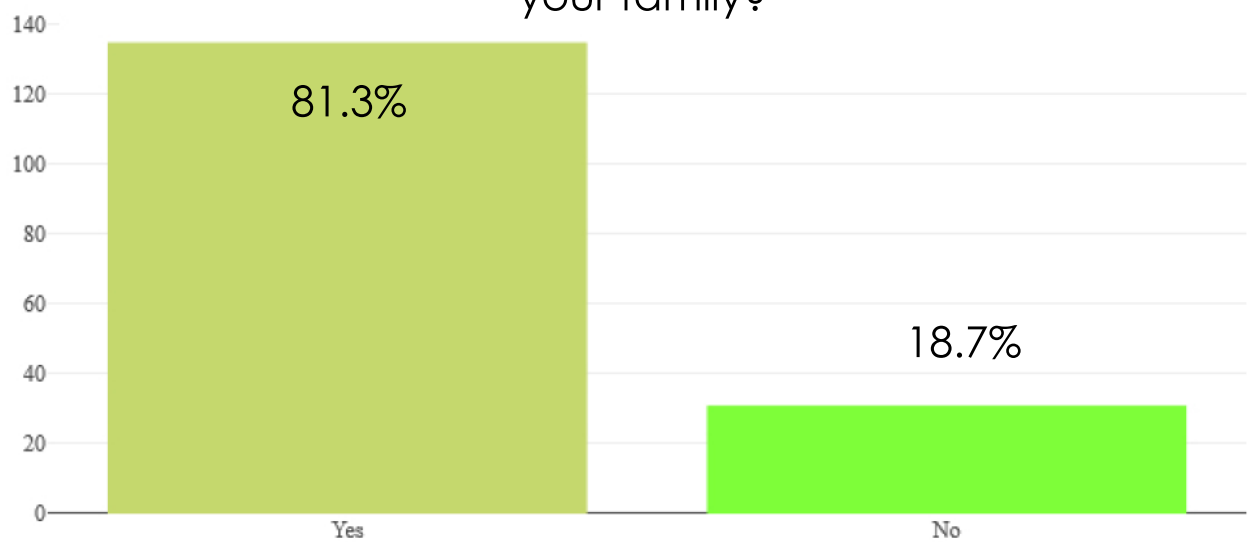

Will arranging care for your dependent inhibit your or a household member's ability to work?

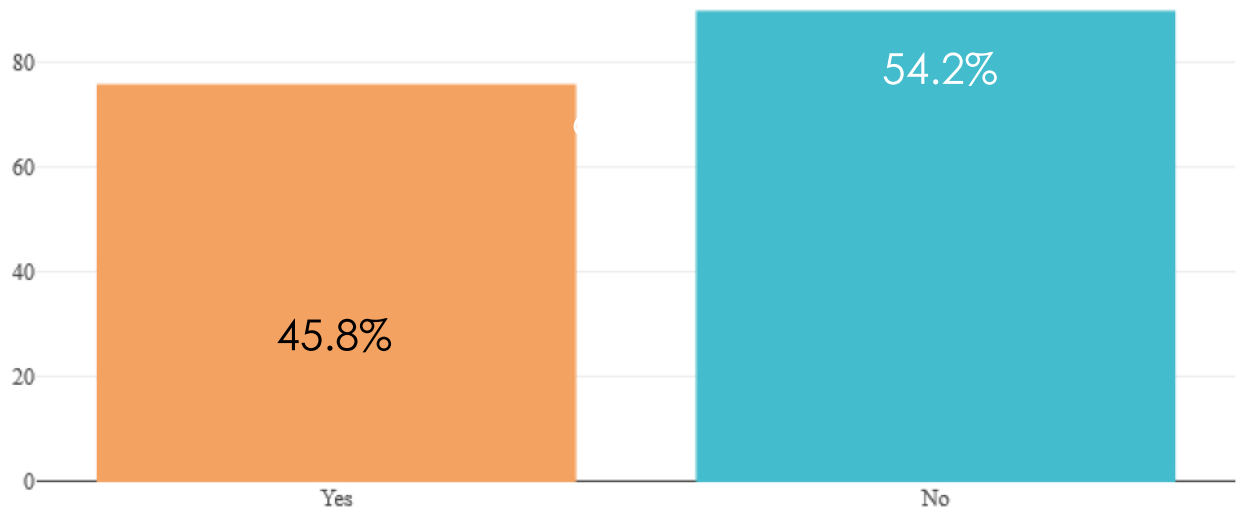

Have your former care arrangements been restored to normal?

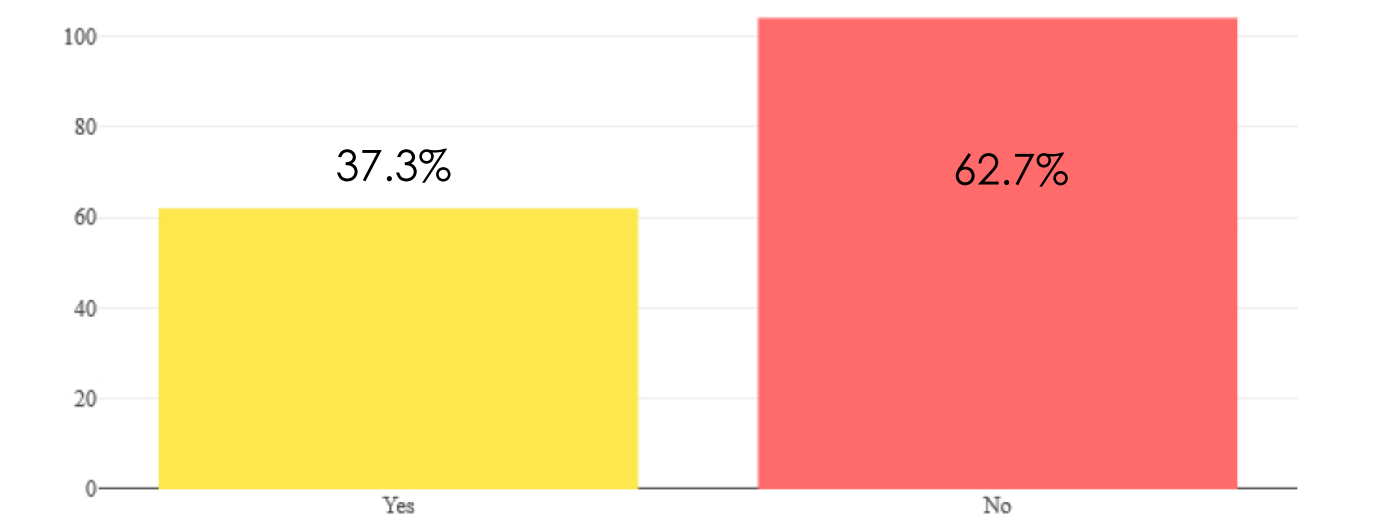

Will arranging for care for your dependent involve extra expenses for your family?

Have you considered quitting your job or retiring to address the family care gap?

Has your agency been supportive of families with care gaps due to COVID-19?

If yes, what policies has your agency instituted to help?
